"In Shattered Reality, Cheryl writes eloquently and compassionately about the real dangers facing children. She bursts common myths like the belief that strangers inflict more injuries on children than the ones who know and love them. Cheryl delivers her message through an emotionally resonant real life story. Dynamic, inspiring and practical...and an entertaining and gripping read. This is a must read for every parent or anyone who cares for kids." -- Retired FBI Behavior Scientist Terry Coff

"Superb Writing. Your daughter's story is powerful and profoundly sad. It is also tragically not an uncommon story. People need to know about this problem. That is the first step toward prevention. Kimberly's story and style of writing will surely grab a large readership. It demonstrates the enormous resourcefulness and resilience of the human spirit"- Carol North, MD MPE; The Nancy and Ray L. Hunt Chair in Crisis Psychiatry Director-Program in Trauma and Disaster, Dallas VAMC; Professor of Psychiatry, UT Southwestern Medical Center Department of Psychiatry; PTSD Specialist

"Shattered Reality works! First, as a riveting non-fiction novel about a mother's struggle for justice. Second, as an informal book on what you can expect if your child reveals they have been sexually assaulted. You will be helped and you will be touched by this amazing story's heart-line" - CA Redding ACE (Adverse Childhood Experiences) Study Health Presentations

5 Stars

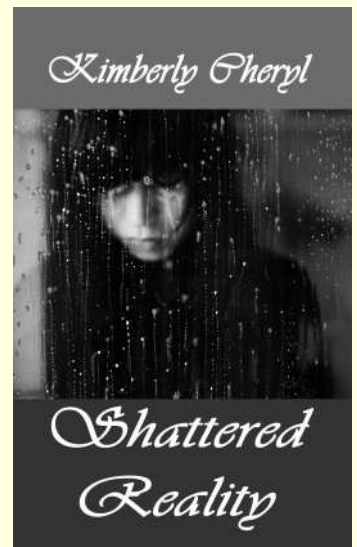

Should be required reading...

I sat down to read Shattered Reality, expecting to read it in one sitting. I had to lay it down several times, do something, anything; I had to move. After a deep breath, I again returned to read "Shattered Reality."

This book brought me anger, frustration, and sadness. Kimberly Cheryl is a courageous mother. Rather than sweeping this under the rug, she has become an advocate for her daughter and for other victims. I am giving this book 5 stars. I am begging and pleading for the world to read this book. Ms. Cheryl, it is my prayer that your family heals. I pray that this monster is taken off the street, so that he cannot harm anyone else. Parents, grandparents, teachers, law officers, everyone should be required to read this book.
